

Workshop »Unruliness of Time« with Mark Turner, Professor of Nineteenth & Twentieth Century Literature (King's College London), and Mercator Fellow Sean Franzel, Associate Professor of German (University of Missouri).

Program

Thursday, 17 May 2018

12:30 – 13:30 Lunch

13:30 – 15:30 Unruliness of Time in Journal Literature of the 19th Century:
Discussing Conceptual Approaches

Articles to discuss:

Sean Franzel: Kleist's Magazines: Archiving the Ephemeral in the Berliner Abendblätter, in German Studies Review 40.3 (2017),
p. 487-507.

Mark Turner: Companions, Supplements, and the Proliferation of Print in the 1830s, in Victorian Periodicals Review 43,2 (2010),
p. 119-132.

Mark Turner: The Unruliness of Serials in the Nineteenth Century
(and in the Digital Age), in Thijs van den Berg and Rob Allen:
Serialization in Popular Culture (Routledge, 2014), p. 11-31.

15:30 – 16:00 Coffee Break

16:00 – 18:00 Mark Turner (King's College London): The Serial Spread of Print in the 19th Century: Reynolds's Mysteries of London

19:00 Dinner at »Blauer Engel«, Höfestraße 86, 44803 Bochum

Friday, 18 May 2018

9:30 – 11:30 Writing Time, Writing Journals, Writing the Monograph.
Presentation and Discussion of the Subproject's Ideas for a Zeit/Schrift Book Project

11:30 – 12:00 Coffee Break

12:00 – 14:00 Sean Franzel (University of Missouri): Ludwig Börne:
Waiting for the News, Waiting for the Revolution